

"Uh, actually, Bikini Bottom was directly below." Jack looked down. Suddenly, a killer whale jumped over them and they fell into the water.

Deep below the surface, SpongeBob and Patrick are thinking of a plan to save the jellyfishes and Sandy. SpongeBob said, "We have to do something." "Right," Patrick joked, "Let's do get some milkshakes!" "No Patrick, that's not what I mean." Then Jack and Kathryn landed on the ground. Patrick snorted as he panicked, "Bigger head!" "No Patrick, it looks like a boy and a girl," SpongeBob said as he looked at them. "Mmm, it looks like they need air." After SpongeBob and Patrick fill up the giant glass helmet, Jack and Kathryn woke up and saw SpongeBob and Patrick watching them.

Patrick asked, "Uh, kid, are you alright?"
"I'm fine, SpongeBob," Jack replied. "Wait, how did you know my name?" SpongeBob asked.
Then Jack explained, "Because me and my dad, Patchy the pirate saw you on T.V." "Who's Patchy?" SpongeBob asked. "He's my father who really loves you and Patrick!" Jack explained. "How did you know my name?" Patrick asked. "I just saw I saw you on T.V." Jack said it again.
"Who are you?" SpongeBob asked. "Oh, I'm Jack and this is my new friend, Kathryn."
Jack said. "Well, nice to meet you two," SpongeBob explained, "but my friend Sandy and the Jellyfishes are taken away by the Cyclops. We gotta find a boat." "Hey, we can help you find a way to rescue Sandy and the Jellyfishes." "You do?" Patrick thought. "Yeah! Come on! I'll show you the way!"
Jack said excitedly. Meanwhile, Patchy and Lucy checked the video recording. Then Patchy saw his son meeting SpongeBob. Lucy said so frustrated, "Look like our son is grounded for leaving the house." Patchy looked again and explained,

No Lucy, I think Jack
have already found SpongeBob. "What do you mean?" Lucy asked.
"I mean, I love SpongeBob so much, in fact, he'll probably help lead us to the boat." Patchy explains some more. "Come on!" Meanwhile, SpongeBob, Patrick, Jack, and Kathryn came up to Squidward's house. SpongeBob saw an anchor falling from the sky. Then it landed on Squidward's house. SpongeBob shouts as he panicked, "Holy Shrimp! Squidward! The sky had a baby!" "What should we name it, SpongeBob?" Patrick joked. When Squidward came back, Squidward looked up and said, "That's not a baby. That's a giant anchor. Now, climb to the bottom of this thing and go away!"

Next came Mr. Krabs, he asked immediately, "SpongeBob, what's the meaning to this? What the, SpongeBob. Now look what you did!!" "We didn't do it, Mr. Krabs," SpongeBob said. "Our hands are clean!" Patrick said. "Well, whatever doesn't know where it came from, I'm coming with you," said Mr. Krabs. "And I'm going to get to the bottom of this thing," Squidward said. "Would that be the top?" SpongeBob asked to help him. So Squidward and Mr. Krabs climbed to the top, and SpongeBob, Patrick, Jack and Kathryn came along too. A few inches later, SpongeBob spotted a ship. Patrick joked, "SpongeBob, how long are you going to stay in a little fantasy world?" "No look, a giant ship!" said SpongeBob. "Great, let's go get a piece of anchor off my mind!" Squidward said as he climbed up. As they got to the top, Mr. Krabs asked, "Alright, who own this crait? Come on out, we need to talk!" Mr. Krabs and Squidward tried to ring the doorbell bunches of times until a green ghost pirate came out and introduced to himself, "I'm the flying dutchman! Who been disturb the flying dutchman ship." "It was Squidward and Mr. Krabs, they didn't mean to disturb you for any thing." Kathryn explained.

The flying dutchman fired his nose on Squidward and Mr. Krabs. He said to them, "You're next!" They panicked and fell off the ship, then they landed back on the ship. The flying dutchman said, "Welcome back!" They panicked and fell off the ship again. Once again, they land back on the ship. The flying dutchman said again, "Welcome back!" As they keep falling off the ship, Mr. Krabs asked, "Hey, how can they acted up as a welcome thing? If you ask me." The flying dutchman fired him again. After they landed back on the ship for a third time, Mr. Krab said his speech, "Now listen here mister. Do you think we're going to stay on this craft? Now look at this place! It's disgusting. While Squidward interrupted his speech too, the flying dutchman picked up Squidward and Mr. Krabs. Squidward continued, "Oh, now what? Oh, gee that's very nice. Oh, what's is this Is this some kinda... AAAA AAHH HH HH HHH!!!!!!

They continuing falling into a scary hole.

After the flying dutchman, zipped up the scary hole, he said to SpongeBob, Patrick, Jack, and Kathryn, "Well, I've got a very special place for trouble makers the like of you! Come here! I'll show you." So the flying dutchman dragged them to their room. He continued, "Save you're breath. You be needing it where you're going see you at dinner." SpongeBob, Patrick, Jack, and Kathryn screamed.

Then Patrick thought to himself and said, "Wait, I had an idea!" "Really, what is it?" Jack asked. "Let's leave!" Patrick joked.

SpongeBob pointed both directions and explained, "But the door is locked and the only way out is go through the perfume department!" Patrick joked "Let's do it." So SpongeBob, Patrick, Jack, and Kathryn rushed through the perfume department without getting sprayed.

As they came out, Jack said to himself, "Oh, I always hate going in there." Suddenly the flying dutchman came out and asked, "I thought I told you I'll see you in dinner? Why aren't you running?"

Jack explained, "We didn't cause those toxins out there. Plankton did!" The flying dutchman realized and said, "Well why didn't ya say so? C'mon then. We'll stop that shrimp." So the flying dutchman dragged them outside their room. The flying dutchman saw an epic charybdis sharknado whirlpool. SpongeBob gasp, "Hold on team, we're coming out of water, here we go!" When the mouth swallowed the flying dutchman's ship, it went up so fast until it shoot, like a cannonball, out of water. Patrick panicked and cried, "Help, I can't breathe!" SpongeBob realized, "Hey, this isn't so bad. We can do this." "Well there's fresh air, I don't need this any more!" Kathryn said as she took off her helmet, "Me too!" Jack said when he took it off too. "Okay yellow square one, it's all up to you, use this spy glass," The flying dutchman told SpongeBob. "That's a telescope," Jack corrected the flying dutchman. SpongeBob looked through the telescope. He spotted the rocky island and said, "We're coming to bunches of islands that are rocky." Next, the flying dutchman told Patrick, "Pink one, take us behind those rocks." "Moving behind the rocks, got it," Patrick said to himself. As the flying dutchman's ship crash through the rocks, SpongeBob said bunches of times, "You're good! You're good! You're good! You're good! And stop! Don't worry, capt'n. We fix all the scratches." When they came inside the rocky islands, they saw all the mermaids singing on the rocks. Patrick asked, "What are those mermaids? They're beautiful!" The flying dutchman looked the history book. He said, "According to my history book, those are called sirens." Then SpongeBob spotted the princess mermaid on the highest rock throne. He said to Patrick, "Hey, Patrick. You got to check this out." Patrick looked at the telescope too. His cheeks turned red, and said, "Wow! She's pretty spongeBob." When the ship parked on the side of the rock, the princess mermaid came down the rocky stairs and said, "SpongeBob? Patrick?" Patrick looked the princess mermaid, and said her name, "Mindy?" Mindy asked, "What are here for?" "I need your help!" spongeBob cried.
