

>Welcome to Jellystone
Park Camp Resort!
Home of the Frog-Mouthed Turtle and Yogi Bear! One of the nations oldest and most beautiful stretches of wilderness for peace and quiet. For over 100 years, families head out from the busy city of Charlotte eager to enjoy a little camping, hiking, swimming, fishing, canoeing, golfing, playing basketball, playing volleyball, playing on playgrounds, shopping and jumping on trampolines," Boo-Boo (Raymond S. Persi) narrates the story, using the Boo-Boo Camera "So here we are in the South Mountain of Golden Valley, North Carolina observing the park's national wildlife!" "And a nice day for a picnic!"

Yogi (Mark DeCarlo) interrupted. "You always come up with some good plans Yogi!" Boo-Boo said as he held up the "Please don't feed the bears" sign. "That's because I'm smarter than the average bear!" Yogi replied. "How many Hot dogs are you eating?" Boo-Boo asked. "We're not here to have a picnic, Boo-Boo Yogi explained, "We're collecting food for Ranger Smith and Movie-Maker Lady's Wedding Party when they get married." "How many more foods do we still need to find?" Boo-Boo asked. Yogi replied, "All that we have left are pies, fish donuts, cookies, and honey." "What about Peanut Butter and Jelly sandwich." Boo-boo asked.

"Not to worry, Boo-boo, we'll collect it when we got every thing!" Yogi said. Meanwhile, at the Ranger Station, Ranger Smith was stacking maps on the map stand. Then, his assistant, Ranger

Jones ran up to him and said "Ranger Smith! Sorry about that! I think we got..." Ranger Smith said the answer, quickly, "I know what it is, a bear disturbance." "Yeah, it is cool because we're park rangers! You know to protect and preserved!" Ranger Jones exclaimed. "Did you just made that model up?" Ranger Smith joked.
"No, it's just keeping the park safe," Ranger Jones said. Well, although, some lady is here!"
"I know, Rachel Johnson!" Ranger Smith said.
"Okay, I'll be map stacking," said Ranger Jones. After Ranger Jones left, Ranger Smith walked up to Rachel and said, "Hey Rachel, I am so glad that you'll be staying in Jellystone for a while." "Well, I was thinking about buying a house with a beautiful golf course in Charlotte, NC," Rachel announced. "Wow, that would be fantastic but what about the frog-mouthed turtle and Ranger Smith explained. Rachel interrupted, "Eh when Basket Stealing Bears falls in their arms. Listen, Yogi will be special to this park and I'm not going to bother him anymore! In fact he's collecting food for our wedding party here in Jellystone. If there's a problem for a Frog-Mouthed Turtle I bet Ranger Jones will report to Yogi immediately. Ranger Smith explained. "Let's do a wedding kiss with you hat off," Rachel said. Ranger Smith and Rachel kiss each other. Ranger Jones was in the back map stacking. He heard in what Ranger Smith told Rachel. He gasped, "Oh no! Yogi will be upset to hear about this." Meanwhile, Yogi and Boo Boo were changing a picnic table into a catapult. Yogi said, "Oh boy! Oh boy! Oh boy! I like how Ranger Smith gives us a bang up job everyday Boo Boo. From now on the picnic baskets is going to fall into our arms. Sultering Iron!" "Here you go!" Boo Boo said, as he handed Yogi the Sultering Iron. "Thank you!" Said Yogi. "Okay, that should do it! Test rock!" "Okay, Yogi!" Boo Boo said as he picked up the test rock and put it on a picnic table catapult. Yogi said in demonstration, while they test the test rock, "Weight's been gravitated basket's in position, firing pin drop and..." The picnic table catapult launched the test rock to the target on the tree. "Bullseye!" Yogi continued, "I'm so smart in hurts!" Boo Boo stared down at Yogi standing on the suttering Iron. He said and pointed down, "Why you're standing on the suttering Iron." "What's that? Oww! Oww! Oww! Hot! Hot! Hot!" Yogi cried as he hopped on one foot. Then he fell down. Yogi and Boo Boo checked through the bushes and waited patiently for the campers to come. "The campers will be coming real soon for a tasty treat! Now, we need to wait here for a picnic basket to fall to our arms!" Yogi said. "Are you sure about this, Yogi?" Boo Boo tried to ask. "People will get pretty mad if you steal..." "A genius never questions your instincts, Boo!" Yogi said. "When you have a mind like mine, we steal food to become special to the park. If you end up like Ranger Smith, people will feel disappointed." The campers walked over with fish, honey, chips, pies, and donuts. Yogi sniffed and said, "Oh boy! Oh boy! Oh boy! We got our first customers! They have chips, smores, fish and honey!" "You know, Yogi, we could hunt for food! All the animals do!" Boo Boo explained. "Boo Boo, a picnic basket has everything a bear needs," Yogi told Boo Boo. "They got pie and they have... DONUTS!!!" Yogi dreamt swimming to a giant donut in outer space. Boo Boo said in mission control in his dream, "Yogi, what are you doing?" Yogi woke up and said, "Nothing to worry Boo Boo!" Suddenly, the bush was shaking. The voice called out, "Yogi, are you out there?" "It's Mr. Ranger!" Boo Boo cried. "Uh oh, get rid of the test rock!" Yogi cried, as he threw the test rock. Right when Ranger Jones came out of the bushes, the test rock went over Ranger Jones's head. He said, "Whoah! Whoah! Whoah! Watch where you're going with it Yogi!" "Ranger Jones? What are doing here?" Boo Boo asked. "Look guys, Ranger Smith is marrying uh, Ranger Jones tried to exclaim. "Miss movie lady?" Boo Boo, said the answer. "Well, yeah, but they're really leaving Jellystone and when they trouble with a frog-mouthed turtle..." Ranger Jones explained. Yogi interrupted, "No worries Ranger Jones! Like what Ranger Smith said, we have a bang-up job, but we never disturb a family's picnic." Suddenly, the picnic table catapult launched the cooler passed the target on the tree. "I missed!" Yogi gasped. Then, the pole smacked at Yogi's face. "I wonder anyone noticed my tie!" Added Yogi. Back at the ranger station, Ranger Smith was calling Rachel about bringing the photos to the press.

He said on the phone, "Yes! I got the pictures you took in the park last week, when you were making your documentary and all I have to do now is get these to the press! Thank you!" When Ranger Smith hung up, he said to himself, "This is great! Once word gets out about all the endangered animals that people can see in this park, the crowds for the 100th Anniversary celebration will be huge! Aw, I have to go tell Ranger Jones the good news! If he's not out earning merit badges again, that is. That man can't get enough merit badges." Suddenly the wind was about to blow out the pictures. Ranger Smith quickly put his lunchbox on top of the pictures. "Whoah! Don't want these pictures to blow away!" Added Ranger Smith. When Ranger Smith left his office, Yogi used his magnetic fishing pole to steal Ranger Smith's lunchbox

Outside the window, Yogi sniffed and said, "I smell PB and J!" "You really think this is a good idea, Yogi?" Boo Boo asked. "Of course, it's a good idea, Boo Boo boy!" said Yogi. "It's lunchtime! And I'm sure Mr. Ranger won't mind sharing his lunch with a smarter-than-average bear and his faithful sidekick!" "I don't know, Yogi," said Boo Boo. "That sounds like exactly the kind of thing Mr. Ranger minds." Yogi said, as he took out his peanut butter and jelly sandwich, "Well, if he has a problem with it, I'm sure he'll say something..." "YOGI!"

Ranger Smith shouted and interrupted. "Like that!" Yogi joked. "Hello, Mr. Ranger sir. Boo Boo and I were just sitting down for some lunch! Care to join us? We're happy to share!" "Share? Share?! That's my lunch!" Ranger Smith said, angrily. Suddenly, a gust of wind blew out the picture out of the window and away they went. "Oh no! Oh no! The photos!" Ranger Smith cried. "It's a windy day, sir," Yogi joked

"You really should put something on top of your pictures, if you don't want them to blow away." Ranger Smith became so mad. In fact, he shouted, "Yogi! Why... I should kick you out of the park for this! Of course, none of it matters, now. Yogi, I know you're stealing food to be special to the park. I know you're collecting food for our wedding. People just aren't coming to Jellystone like they use to. Now, we've got nothing to bring those crowds back." "You mean the people were coming to see your pictures?" Yogi asked, wonderly. "Why would they want to see pictures when they can experience the great outdoors up close and personal-like?" "Yogi, those were pictures of endangered animals that live in Jellystone. And I was gonna send them to the newspaper so that they could publish them and attract new visitors to the park!" Ranger Smith explained. "Can't you just get some more pictures?" Yogi asked. "I'd never be able to find all the animals myself," Ranger Smith groaned. "Don't you worry, Mr. Ranger sir! I know every animal in Jellystone. Most of them even like me! I can find the animals for you!" Yogi said, as he wobbly hold out the camera. "And I promise I will take good care of your camera! Whoops!" "Okay, I'm gonna let Boo Boo take the pictures under my supervision," Ranger Smith said, as he passed the camera to Boo Boo. Instead, Ranger Smith gave Yogi an animal tracker map. "You just find the animals. Here's a list," Added Ranger Smith. "And remember, Yogi, this is important. So don't waste time stealing food from the campers." "You've got it, Mr. Ranger!" Yogi told Boo Boo. "Come on, Boo Boo! There are picnic baskets, .. I mean, .. Endangered animals out there waiting for us to find them!

Meanwhile, Ranger Smith drove the park ranger kart to the Ranger station. Ranger Jones was there with a boy scout, Kurt. Ranger Jones said, "Ranger Smith, perfect timing! I would like to introduce my boy scout who would help me collect my merret badge, Kurt." "Hi Ranger Smith, my name is Kurt and I'm a Jellystone scout!" Kurt said, as he introduced himself. "I already know this kid!" Ranger Smith said. "What are you doing here?" "Well, I need this kid who can look out for natural wild life!" Ranger Jones explained. "Yogi, are you sure?" Ranger Smith asked. "He's already working with Boo Boo by finding the endangered animals and take pictures for me." "Well, Kurt needs to meet them in order to earn merit badge," Ranger Jones explained.

"Okay fine, hop on!" Ranger Smith groaned. Ranger Jones and Kurt hopped on the ranger cart. Mean while, Yogi and Boo Boo were finding the animals to take pictures for Ranger Smith.

"Good job, Boo Boo Boy, we completed 9 endangered animals so far!" Yogi said with a compliment.

"All is left is the frog-mouthed turtle, in which Movie Maker Lady called it." Suddenly, the bush shook. Yogi cried, as he covered his arms, "Uh oh, it's Mr. Ranger!" Right when Boo Boo hold out his camera, a female bear came out of the bushes. She said, "Whoah!

Whoah! Whoah! I'm sorry to scare you! I thought you need help finding that turtle."

"It's okay! We're looking for a frog-mouthed turtle" Boo exclaimed. "A frog-mouthed turtle?" Female bear asked. "You know a turtle that stick out his tongue like a frog. It's extinct, but mine still exist!"

Boo Boo explained, "Don't worry, Boo Boo, I know our turtle is safe at our cave!" Yogi said, "Okay, but... who are you boys?" Female bear asked, "I'm Yogi Bear, who is smarter than the average bear, and this is my sidekick, Boo Boo!" Yogi said, as he introduced themselves, "Who you might be?" A female bear introduced herself, "I'm Cindy!" "Nice to meet you, Cindy Lou who!" Yogi jokes as he shook his hand. "Yogi, we got to finish finding the animals!" Boo Boo interrupted, "Right on, Boo Boo!" Yogi said. Meanwhile, a mayor of Charlotte, and a governor of North Carolina were reading the newspaper that both the city and the state is going bankrupt. A mayor, Wright, gasped, "Bankrupt? Our city and state's don't go bankrupt. We're running as Mayor and governor! How can we do this if it's going bankrupt?" "Here's how!" A governor, Allen, said as he showed the contract. "Yikes!" Mayor Wright gasped, "Wait a second, I saw that if we take over a business and make it better, we'll have a chance to make more money!" "But we need to think of some place and what will save our city and state!" Governor Allen said. They puzzled a resolution. They looked at the state of North Carolina. Then, Mayor Wright had an idea. He said, as he pointed on the map, "Well, we really do, Jellyston."

Park! If we close down Jollystone Park and turn it into like... an amusement park, we'll have enough money to save the state and the city!" "Wow, I think that's a wonderful idea, Mr. Mayor!" Governor Allen smiled. "Wait to be the next Mayor and Governor! Haha!"

Meanwhile, Yogi, Cindy, and Boo Boo went home to their cave sweet cave to look for a frog-mouthed turtle to take a picture. They Boo Boo found the frog-mouthed turtle in Boo Boo's sleeping bag. He said, "There you are, turtle! Here, you hold the turtle! Smile and say, 'picnic basket,' Yogi!" Boo Boo gave the frog-mouthed turtle onto Yogi's arms and took a snapshot. "Great job, Boo Boo! We got new pictures of the endangered animals Yogi said. "Let's go tell Mr. Ranger." As Yogi, Boo Boo, and Cindy headed out from their cave, Ranger Smith called out, "Yogi!" "It's Mr. Ranger!" Boo Boo said. "Ah, perfect timing! Mr. Ranger will be so pleased!" Yogi said. "Who's Mr. Ranger?" Cindy asked. When Ranger Smith, Ranger Jones, and Kurt stopped at Yogi and Boo Boo's cave, Yogi said, "Hey, Ranger Smith and hello to you too, Ranger Jones! Here you go! We did it." Yogi handed new photo of the endangered animals. Ranger Smith said, happily, "Congratulations, Yogi!" When word get out about the endangered animals, we will sell more than enough season passes to keep Jellystone packed with visitors! Oh, what a perfect way to ring in our hundredth anniversary!" "Yeah, but, Yogi, BooBoo! I would like to introduce a boy scout, Kurt!" Ranger Jones introduced Kurt. "Hey guys," said Kurt, "What are you?" Cindy introduced herself. "My name is Cindy." "Cindy? Oh no, not another bear robot!" Ranger Smith gasped. Yogi put his hand onto

Ranger Smith's shoulder. He said, "Mr. Ranger, Cindy is a bear look like me and Boo Boo! Don't kick her out of this park, especially Boo Boo and I, please?" "Alright fine, Yogi!" Ranger Smith groaned. "Now, all I have to do now is get there's to the press! Come on Ranger Jones!" Ranger Jones went Ranger Smith to a press room. "Yogi, Boo Boo! Take Kurt to see Rachel. Rachel brought her daughter with her, "Alder Ranger Smith. "A daughter?" Boo Boo asked wonderly. "I never saw Miss Movie Lady have her daughter before." Meanwhile, Rachel took her daughter, Allie down to Jellystone Park. Rachel and Allie got out of the Jeep. Allie said,

"Mom, I got to get to school!" Rachel bent down and said, "Oh sweetie, you already went to school. Today is my wedding with Ranger Smith. Now, I'm going to find Ranger Smith and you look for, uh, wild bears." After Rachel left to look for Ranger Smith and Ranger Jones, Allie decided to play at the play ground.

After she played on the play ground, Allie went over to the jumping pillow. Then, four bushes sneaked up to the play ground. Yogi used a blue periscope to take a look at Allie playing. Yogi said, "Boo Boo, I think it's time to introduce myself for that pic-nic basket!" Boo Boo said, "You know, Yogi, we could just hunt for food, all the other animals do!" "Boo Boo, a picnic basket has everything a bear needs," Yogi explained. "We're not here to just steal food, we're special to this park when visitors sees us dancing!" "I don't think we did this before," Boo Boo said. "I'm pretty sure did it once for the uh, ... mayor?" Yogi said. Kurt interrupted, "Yogi, Boo Boo, Cindy! There's Allie! What should we do?" Yogi Came out of the bush and ran up to Allie. Boo Boo and Cindy came out of the bushes too. Boo Boo called out, "Yogi, Walt! Get back here!" Then, Allie stopped jumping. She looked all around asked, wonderly, "Hello: Is anyone there?" Yogi stood in front and said, "Hello there, movie maker lady's daughter" "Aaahhh!!!" Allie screamed. "A wild bear!" "A wild bear? Where?" Yogi joked. Kurt came up and said, "Don't feel scared! Those are friendly bears! That's Yogi! Boo Boo! And Cindy!" "Hi!" Cindy said. "And who do you think you are?" Allie asked. "I'm Kurt! One of Ranger Jones's Jellystone boy scouts!" Kurt introduced himself. "Ranger Smith told me, Yogi, Boo Boo, and Cindy to meet Rachel!" "You mean't my mom, right?" Allie corrected Kurt. "Yes, but who are you?" Kurt asked. "My name is Allie!" She introduced herself. "What are you guys doing here?" Kurt explained, "Ranger Smith was about to marry you Mom! So, Yogi, Boo Boo, and Cindy..." "Just Boo Boo and I!" Yogi interrupted and corrected Kurt. Kurt continued, "Thanks Yogi! Boo Boo and Yogi collected food and took photos of endangered animals to bring visitors for a hundredth anniversary"

Wedding! Have you seen Rachel, I mean, your mom Yogi interrupted, "Nothing to worry, Kurty!
Ranger Smith is with Movie Maker Lady and Ranger Jones down at Jellystone Lake getting the wedding and fireworks set up! I'll show you the way!"

Meanwhile, at Jellystone Lake, Ranger Smith and Rachel set up season pass order form at their stand. "Season pass order forms, thank you!" Ranger Smith called out as he passed them along. All the visitors came to enjoy their wedding. Soon, after they sold out season pass order forms, Ranger Smith asked Rachel, "Would you mind doing me a favor by finding where Yogi is? We can't start the show without him!" "Okay, Ranger Smith!" she said. Suddenly, Ranger Jones gasped when the mayor and governor came over on time. "Oh no!" He cried. Ranger Jones rushed over to Ranger Smith to warn him. "Ranger Smith! The governor and mayor is here!" Ranger Jones spoke on walkie talkie, calling here, lock down the park! Repeat lock down the park." Mayor Wright and Governor Allen got out of their car and walked to Ranger Smith and Ranger Jones. Mayor Wright said, "Ranger Smith, we need to talk! Well, we have some terrible news that we're closing your park town!" Ranger Smith refused by saying, "No wait, Jellystone is special! It's turning a hundred years old! We're having a wedding today! It's a landmark!

It's not going to happen!" Governor Allen explained.
"Well, I guess you don't have a choice, this place cost way too much money for my state and his city! Since Jellystone loses money every year, we're shutting it down! Pretty sad, huh?" Mayor Wright announced.
"Well, the great news is we're going to recover Jellystone Park into an amusement park called, Lincoln Log Land! We're going to build a brand new roller coaster out of logs!" Governor Allen handed Ranger Smith money and a contract for him to fill out. He said, "Okay, let's get started! Here, you fill out this contract and we'll pay you..." "400,000?" Ranger Smith answered.
"$400,000! Now, I can't wait to come back like... 10,000 more times!" said Mayor Wright. "Ranger Smith, don't do this..." Ranger Jones tried to stop Ranger Smith, but he covered Ranger Jones's mouth and filled out the contract. "Do we have time for a week?" Mayor Wright joked. "Impossible!" Governor Allen joked too. "Oh, shoot! Hahahaha!!" Mayor Wright laughed. Mean while, Yogi, Boo Boo, Cindy, Kurt, and Allie arrived at Jellystone Lake. Yogi saw all people gathering at the festival. He cried, "There it is Boo Boo! We'll be wishing a happy happy birthday to Jellystone and miss Ranger Smith as he takes Movie Maker

...ady on a honeymoon to the big city of Charlotte Yogi cried into tears. Boo Boo put his hand onto Yogi's shoulder. He cheered Yogi up by saying, 'Don't be sad, Yogi. Mr. Ranger will always come visit with Miss Movie Lady and will...' Then, Rachel came over and found Yogi and Boo Boo. She said, "Yogi! Boo Boo! There you are! We've been looking everywhere for you! The wedding is about to begin! We can't start without you guys..." Rachel also Allie brought over guests: Kurt and Cindy. She gasped, "Allie, who did you invite?" Allie introduced Kurt and Cindy by saying, "Mom, may I introduce my new friend, Kurt! And that's Cindy!" "Hi!" Cindy said. "Yes, it's nice to me you two, but Yogi! Boo Boo I said, the wedding is starting soon and we can't start without you guys!
Besides everyone could probably get bored with no one special to this park." Rachel exclaimed.
'Bored?' But the 100th anniversary strappaganza going on!" Boo Boo said, as he pointed out there.
"Well, our 100th anniversary celebration, with dangerous fireworks caused destruction, we need someone special to hold out the rings and make sure nothing bad happens again today. Are you with me?" Rachel explained. "You got it,

Movie Maker Lady! I knew Boo Boo, Cindy and I will be your priest!" Yogi said. "Well good." Rachel said, "Kurt! Allie! Come and change in to wedding clothes." Five hours later, Ranger Jones stood right next to Ranger Smith. Kurt and Allie stood next to Rachel. Yogi, Boo Boo, and Cindy came over with wedding rings. Yogi stood in front and asked, "Do you think you and Mr. Ranger... I mean... Ranger Smith to get married? Do you get Ranger Smith to be your husband? Let's say we promise our love to each other!" Rachel smiled, "Ranger Smith and I promised our love forever!" "And for our honeymoon move out!" Ranger Smith said to "Boo Boo, passed out the rings!" Yogi said. While Boo Boo walked over to Yogi, Ranger Smith, and Rachel, Kurt saw that Governor Allen and Mayor Wright was in the back. He looked over at Ranger Smith and realized they made a plan. Kurt whispered "Allie!" "What?" she asked. "It sounds like Ranger Smith made a plan to let the governor and mayor take over this park," Kurt told Allie. "Don't worry, Kurt! Maybe they're discussing that Ranger Jones will take over Jellystone park," Allie exclaimed. When Ranger Smith and Rachel put on their wedding rings, Cindy announced, "You may now kiss for the bride." Ranger Smith and Rachel finally kissed each other for the bride and the people applauded. A little later and after the wedding, Ranger Smith and Rachel packed up their stuff at the Ranger station. Then, Governor Allen and Mayor Wright stopped by a gain. Governor Allen smiled, "Hey there, that's quite a show you put on today! Congratulations on your marriage! Here's your new assignment, Evergreen park! It's down at Charlotte N.C.!" "Yeah, well, Ranger Jones will be taking over here!" Mayor Wright said. "Well, I have some construction planning to do because as matter in fact, I saved the city!" "And I saved my state too!" Said Governor Allen. Ranger Jones felt so surprised. In fact, he said, "Ranger Smith, I tried to warn you not to listen to them that..."

"Hang in there, don't worry about the mayor and governor right now. Your job is to take over Jellystone Park and Yogi will be always Yogi!" "Fine!" Ranger Jones groaned. Kurt tried to say, "Allie, have fun in Charlotte! But I heard what Ranger Smith to Mayor and governor..." "Allie, time to go!" Rachel called out. "Coming mom!" Allie shouted. "Got to go! See ya later!" Kurt felt sad. Ranger Smith, Rachel, and Allie drove away to the city of Charlotte. Boo Boo looked at the back sign that says, "come again!" Boo Boo sadly, gasped, "I can't believe he's really gone." While Yogi, Boo Boo, and Cindy walked sadly to their cave, Boo Boo asked, "Yogi, are you okay?" "I'm done being special, Boo Boo! We don't have a boss anymore," Yogi exclaimed, "When there is no boss, Jellystone will get a lot worse and destructive if I'm smarter than the average bear." "Yogi, remember that Ranger Smith and Miss Movie Lady found out my pet turtle is a frog-mouthed turtle whatever it is," he said, "it has to be protected in the park if that's a law!" Boo Boo explained, "Boo Boo is right! Some endangered animals are protected in this park, especially us!" said Cindy. Yogi didn't answer. He fell asleep on the hammock. Boo Boo said, "Okay, I'll sleep with my pet turtle!" "You know what? I'll sleep with your frog-mouthed turtle!" Cindy said. "You sleep with Yogi!" Boo Boo slept with Yogi. Cindy slept with his frog-mouthed turtle. "I guess this is a long hibernation," Boo Boo gasped to himself. Meanwhile, three months later, at Ranger Smith's and Rachel's new house, Ranger Smith was about to head out to his new job at Evergreen Park. Rachel came over and said, "Ranger Smith! Good luck at your new job! I think you'll do great! I love you!" Ranger Smith and Rachel hugged. Rachel checked on Allie and saw her watching the news that Jellystone Park is closing down for Construction for a new amusement park. The news reporter announced, "So, here we are at Jellystone Park! After Ranger Smith and Rachel Johnson's wedding for over 100 years, Ranger Smith made a deal with the mayor and governor to close and build Lincoln Log Land in which is coming soon. Now, Ranger Jones is the head ranger, but who's wondering if he retires or capture their natural wildlife." Allie felt so surprised.

Rachel came over and asked, "Allie, what are you doing here? You got to get to school!" Allie tried to exclaim, "Look, Yogi, Boo Boo, and Cindy are in trouble!"

Ranger Smith should've talked to the mayor and governor about this!" Rachel interrupted and said, "Allie, I don't have time to help you right now! I have to meet Ranger Smith at Evergreen park and you're going to be late for school! I promise we'll talk when we get home. I'll be home after you!"

Soon, Rachel drove Allie to an elementary school. When Allie got out of Rachel's Jeep, Allie asked, "Mom, aren't you suppose to pick me up later?" Rachel answered, "You can walk home on your own." Later around lunchtime, Allie sat alone eating her peanut butter and jelly sandwich. Then, Allie's friend, Milo sat next to Allie. He said, "Hi Allie, are you okay?" Allie explained, "Yes, well, Ranger Smith made a deal with the mayor" and governor to tear Jellystone to the ground and turn into Lincoln Log Land amusement park." "I heard! Isn't that great?" Milo asked. "Well, what I mean is there's are 3 bears that talk, where's a hat and tie, and walk upright living there. In fact, there's an endangered animal that is a turtle and stick out his tongue," Allie continued, "A frog-mouthed turtle?" Milo exclaimed, "Oh, yes! But I thought they're extinct?" "No really, one still existed today that the law says to protect that turtle," Allie explained. "They could be in trouble right now!" Milo explained, "It is?! If it is the law, go find them and save them!" Allie picture in her head that Rachel told Allie to walk on her own. She said, "Thanks, Milo! I'll go save them!" "Can I come too?" Milo asked. Allie said, "I already have my friend Kurt in Jellystone! He'll help me!"

When Allie got home, she wrote a letter and packed another peanut butter and jelly sandwich, hot dogs, donuts, and apple juice in her backpack. Later she headed out to the bus stop.

Soon, the bus arrived and Allie hopped on. The bus drove to Jellystone Park. Meanwhile, when Rachel and Ranger Smith got home. Rachel called out, "Allie! We're home! You said we can talk about why Jellystone is in trouble when we get home! Hello?" Then, Ranger Smith found a letter and read it. Ranger Smith gasped, "No, no, no, no!" "What is it?" Rachel asked. "Allie went back to Jellystone to rescue Yogi, Boo Boo, Cindy, and the frog-mouthed turtle," Ranger Smith answered. "But, remember that the frog-mouthed turtle can't be removed from its natural habitat?" It's against special law!" Rachel exclaimed. "But I signed the form with Mayor Wright and Governor Allen!" Ranger Smith said, thoughtfully. "No, you shouldn't listen to them! Now, Jellystone is in trouble! Especially, Yogi, Boo Boo, and Cindy!" Rachel explained. "Come on, Ranger Smith! Don't give up now! Just like what Yogi said, we're all Jellystone Scott!" Ranger Smith smiled, "You're right, Rachel! Jellystone sounds too important to give up on! Let's go!" Meanwhile, when the bus arrived back at Jellystone Park, Allie got out of the bus and ran up to the entrance. The Jellystone Park entrance was blocked. All of the construction workers cut down the trees and dug up the grounds. Governor Allen guarded the entrance. Allie shouted, "You don't understand! Yogi, Boo Boo, Cindy, and the frog-mouthed turtle is in there! Let me in, please!"

"Sorry lady, park is closed for construction for a brand new Lincoln Log Land theme park," Governor Allen exclaimed. "But don't worry, we're putting the turtle and three talking bears in a nice zoo in Charlotte!" "No, the turtle is part of its natural wild life! Including Yogi, Boo Boo, and Cindy," Allie explained. Mean while, inside Yogi and Boo Boo's cave, Yogi, Boo Boo, Cindy, and the frog-mouthed turtle were still hibernating. Suddenly, the animal controllers arrived with Mayor Wright. Mayor Wright grinned, "Well, well, well, well!!!! One of our beloved Frog-Mouth turtle and the three talking bears. Then Yogi, Boo Boo, and Cindy woke up as they saw Mayor Wright picked up the frog-mouthed turtle and put him in the cage. "Come to dadda!" Mayor Wright grinned. Boo Boo gasped, "No! Don't! That's my pet turtle!" "Yeah you hand us back the turtle now!" Yogi said immediately. "Where are you taking him?" Cindy asked. "Ah, this turtle need somewhere else protected, where visitors can see him like a museum! So, we're putting this frog-mouthed turtle in a nice zoo in Charlotte!" Mayor Wright exclaimed. "Animal Control, take those talking bears to the zoo too!" Yogi, Boo Boo and Cindy tried to get away from the animal controllers, but it was too late. The animal controllers used 3 snares to capture Yogi, Boo Boo, and Cindy. "No! No! No!" Boo Boo cried as the animal controllers pushed them inside the truck. Meanwhile, Allie tried to convince Governor Allen to get in and get Yogi, Boo Boo, Cindy, and the frog-mouthed turtle out of there. Governor Allen got angry and said, "I'm sorry! I kept telling you the answer is no." Soon, Ranger Jones arrived with Kurt. Ranger Jones asked, "What's going on in my park?" Allie explained, "Ranger Jones, that governor made a plan with a mayor to tear down Jellystone Park into Lincoln Log Land! Yogi, Boo Boo, Cindy, and the frog-mouthed turtle are in their cave!" "Don't worry about the turtle and the three bears! We've putting them in a nice zoo!" Governor Allen exclaimed. Ranger Jones interrupted and explained, "I think he's correct! We saw Yogi, Boo Boo, Cindy, and the frog-mouthed turtle were being captured by animal control, but I found a way to catch up to the truck! Come on! Hurry." Ranger Jones, Allie, and Kurt walked over to the shed. As Ranger Jones opened the door, Ranger Jones said, "Here it is!" "Those bikes?" Allie asked. Kurt said, "Ranger Jones, you're right! Since we don't have our driver's licence, we can ride our bikes to catch up to the truck and rescue Yogi, Boo Boo, Cindy, and the frog-mouthed turtle!" Ranger Jones turned around and saw the animal control truck taking Yogi, Boo Boo, Cindy and the frog-mouthed turtle away. He gasped, hurriedly, "Uh, Kurt, the animal control was about to leave! Put your helmets on and hop on the bikes!" Kurt and Allie put on their helmets and went after the animal control truck. Ranger Jones said in far distance, "Go on and get Yogi!" Meanwhile, Ranger Smith and Rachel drove up back to the Jellystone Park entrance. "There's Ranger Jones," Rachel said as she pointed out the window. Ranger Smith and Rachel got out of the Jeep and rushed over to the blocked entrance with Governor Allen guarding. Ranger Smith shouted, "Hey, you need to let us in this park that turtle needs protection!" "Don't worry about the turtle we're handling it! We'll make sure he's put in a nice zoo!" said Governor Allen. "No, the turtle is endangered! so, it can't be removed since it's natural habitat! It's against special law!" Rachel explained. Ranger Smith explained too, "What Rachel was saying is that it's against the law to remove a turtle or bears that are special to the park." "Wait, where's Allie and Kurt?" Rachel asked. Ranger Jones said, "Don't worry, Ranger Smith! I gave Kurt and Allie boy scout bikes to go after the animal control and rescue Yogi, Boo Boo, Cindy, and the frog-mouthed turtle at the Tiger World Zoo!" "Tiger World Zoo?" Rachel gasped. "Fine, you win!" Ranger Smith groaned and they started to walk away. Ranger Jones walked around the blocked entrance and ran up to Rachel and Ranger Smith. Ranger Jones tried to say, "Ranger Smith, I told you that I gotten taken care of!" "Me too, Ranger Jones!" said Ranger Smith. "Come with us!" "Where are we going?" Rachel asked. "Get in the car! We're going to save the turtle!" Ranger Smith answered. Meanwhile, the animal control truck was still driving Yogi, Boo Boo, Cindy, and the frog-mouthed turtle to Tiger World Zoo. Yogi, Boo Boo, and Cindy were in the back of the two animal controllers holding the frog-mouthed turtle in the cage of a way to get out of there. Yogi said, "Don't worry, Boo Boo! We'll figure out a way to get out of here!" "Yogi, there is no way out of here! You see, the doors are locked!" Said Boo Boo. Soon, Allie and Kurt sped up next to the animal control truck. Kurt reached his arms out to unlock the door. "Give me a hand Allie!" He shouted. Allie helped Kurt. Inside, Yogi said his plan, "Come on, I knew we can do this! I stand my head out front and you and Cindy push me out!" Boo Boo and Cindy got in position to push Yogi forward. "Ready? 1, 2, 3!!!" Yogi assisted. After Kurt and Allie unlocked the locker, Yogi, Boo Boo, and Cindy charged out of the animal control truck with Boo Boo's frog-mouthed turtle still stuck in the front. When Yogi, Boo Boo, and Cindy got up, Cindy shouted, "We made it out of here!" Then, Boo Boo realized they forgot his Frog-mouthed turtle. He said, "Wait! What about my pet turtle?" Yogi turned around and saw the animal control truck diving the frog-mouthed turtle away still. He shouted, "Hey you! You turned around and give us back our turtle! I mean, frog-mouthed turtle!" Allie said in the back, "Kurt and I freed you guys! We couldn't rescue the frog-mouthed turtle on time!" "Kurt? Allie? What are you guys doing here?" Boo Boo asked. Kurt explained,

"Allie said that we rescued you three! The animal control won't turn around. So, we're helping you save the frog-mouthed turtle and Jellystone!" "What's going on with Jellystone Park?" Cindy asked.

"They're cutting down trees to turn into Lincoln Log Land theme park!" Kurt said. "I guess it's getting worse now! We're smarter than the average bears now. Ranger Smith quit being our head ranger to the park," Yogi said, sadly. "Come on Yogi, you got to help us save Jellystone. Everyone needs a hero to go find that turtle because when I met you, or my mom, you're special to this park!" Allie convinced Yogi. "The girl is right! You know you're not an average bear!" Boo Boo exclaimed. "See, don't give up now, we're all Jellystone Scott, even me!" Cindy exclaimed too. "You're right guys! I am... uh, we're special to Jellystone Park!" Yogi exclaimed. "Come on! We can't get Jellystone back alone!" "So, where are you going, Yogi?" Boo Boo asked. "Since now you help me make my thinker even better, the frog-mouthed turtle is heading to Tiger World Park down at the city of Charlotte!"

Yogi exclaimed. "The city of Charlotte? That's a long walk!" Kurt gasped. "Don't be silly kids! I already know a faster way to kick the feet off the street!" Yogi told Kurt. Yogi, Boo Boo, Cindy, Allie, and Kurt walked next to the train track. They waited for a train to come. Yogi said, "Get ready for it! Here it comes!" Then, the train passed by. "Run, Boo Boo, run!" Added Yogi. So they all chased after the train. "Hurry Kurt! Hurry Allie! Boo Boo shouted. "Alright, ladies first!" Cindy said as she picked up Allie and put her on the train. Cindy climbed onto the train. "Get ready to jump for it! All aboard!" Yogi said as he tossed Kurt and then Boo Boo onto the train. "Yogi, grab my paw!" Boo Boo said, as he held out his paw. "Wait for me!" Yogi shouted. Yogi ran as fast as he could, but he ran into a sign and banged his head! Boo Boo kept pulling Yogi onto the train, but he banged into the sides of the fence! Finally, Yogi was able to climb on! The train just stopped at Jellystone station. "I guess it makes a stop here!"

"Yeah!" Said Kurt. Yogi, Boo Boo, Cindy, Kurt, and Allie rode the train to the city of Charlotte. Once when the train arrived at the train station, they got off and walked along the road. First, Yogi, Boo Boo, Cindy, Kurt and Allie walked up to Carowinds amusement park. Allie said, "Welcome to the City of Charlotte!" "Wow! I never been through the city in a long time!" Boo Boo gasped. "What's that place over there?" Kurt asked. Yogi looked around and read the sign. He said, "We're at Carowinds! I can't believe it's the same amusement park that Lincoln Log Land is taking over Jellystone! Let's go check it out!" "Wait for us, Yogi!" Boo Boo shouted, as they walked inside Carowinds. While Yogi, Boo Boo, Cindy, Kurt, and Allie walked around Carowinds, Kurt whispered, "Uh, Allie? Aren't we suppose to look for the frog-mouthed turtle?" "We will, Kurt! When we look around the city of Charlotte, we'll be closer to Tiger World Zoo," Allie said. Yogi spotted a new roller coaster, Fury 325 just opened. He shouted, "Look kids, a new roller coaster, Fury 325 is finally here! Can we ride together, please?" Boo Boo, sadly, said, "I don't know, Yogi! We must look for my pet turtle!" Allie put her hand onto Boo Boo's shoulder. She said, "Boo Boo, you never explored this Charlotte city before! Let's take a look around until we get close to Tiger World Zoo!" "Well, okay!" said Boo Boo. Yogi, Cindy, Boo Boo, Kurt, and Allie went on Fury 325. They rode to the top and down super fast. Yogi was having so much fun with Cindy, Boo Boo, Kurt, and Allie. Boo Boo and Kurt felt nervous. In fact, Boo Boo cried, "I guess I'm going to get really sick!" "Me too, Boo Boo!" cried Kurt too. Boo Boo and Kurt threw up. After their roller coaster ride, a Carowinds owner brought a Cedar Point's CEO over. The owner said, "Hey kids, I hope you enjoyed our new Fury 325. The owner and CEO gasped as they saw Yogi, Boo Boo, and Cindy. The CEO shouted to everyone, "Yogi, Boo Boo, and Cindy are back!" "Missed us?" Cindy gasped thoughtfully. "Were from Jellystone Park! It's closing down into Lincoln Log Land. We're finding a frog-mouthed turtle to save Jellystone." "I hear you, but we use to have you guys for Hanna-Barbera Land theme, but the CEO changed it!" The owner explained. "We want to celebrate our anniversary of Carowinds." The CEO exclaimed. Meanwhile, Rachel was driving with Ranger Smith and Ranger Jones to find Yogi, Boo Boo, Cindy, Kurt, and Allie. Right when Rachel put on the radio, Ranger Smith asked, "What are you doing?" "Let's listen to some music!" she answered. "No, no, no..." Ranger Smith tried to warn Rachel, but she already turned the radio. The commercial for Carowinds came up on the Radio saying, "Do you like excitement? Guess who back at Carowinds? Soon, we're bringing back Hanna-Barbera Land! Only at Carowinds!" Yogi on the radio commercial announced, "That's right! I Yogi Bear, who is smarter than the average bear, would welcome Boo Boo, Cindy, and I as special guests!" "That's got to be Yogi!" Ranger Smith gasped. "Rachel, take us to Carowinds. Mean while, back at Carowinds, Boo Boo tried to explain "We kept warning you that Jellystone is in trouble, so we must find my pet turtle to save Jellystone!" "I understand, what you're saying, Boo Boo," The owner exclaimed. "Tell you what! When you're on your way to Tiger World Zoo, stop by any place to warn people to keep Jellystone park!" "Yogi got it, amusement park owner! Allie, Kurt, Cindy, Boo Boo and I will be on our way!" Yogi said "Let's go, kids!" Soon, they left Carowinds. Next, Yogi, Boo Boo, Cindy, Kurt, and Allie went over to Frankie's Fun Park. "Frankie's Fun Park?" Boo Boo asked, wonderly. "Come on, Boo Boo boy, Frankie's Fun Park sounds so much fun!" Yogi said, excitedly. "Not like Carowinds, asked Boo Boo. Remember, what amusement park owner said," Yogi exclaimed, "When we're on our way to Tiger World Zoo, we warn people to save

Jellystone as we stop by bunches of places."
 Cindy called out, "Yogi, Boo Boo! Come on!" Yogi, Boo Boo, Cindy, Kurt,
 and have lots of fun playing mini golf, ride on go-karts, go bowling, play in a cool arcade games and even play on Frankie's Funhouse. Kurt and Allie had lots of fun playing on Frankie's Funhouse. Whe Yogi tried swing and throw his bowling ball, Cindy and Boo Boo tried to grab Yogi's legs as they flew across the lane and crashed at the pins! Next, Yogi, Boo Boo, Cindy, Kur and Allie enjoyed riding on their go-karts However, Yogi pushed Kurt, Allie, Cindy and Boo Boo to the parking go-karts to crash!

 "Watch where you're going, Yogi!" Allie said angrily. "Sorry, I was always cross in first place because everyone think I'm special!" Yogi shouted in the back. "Yogi, look out!" Boo Boo yelled back. Yogi drove around too fast and then crashed into the front of Boo Boo, Cindy, Allie and Kurt in their Go-Karts! Then, Yogi, Boo Boo, and Cindy enjoyed hitting their golf balls at every hole. After they hit their golf balls at the last hole, Yogi, Boo Boo, and Cindy got back together with Allie and Kurt. Allie said, "Hey Yogi, Kurt and I went around to let the kids and their parents know that they want Jellystone back!" "That was great!" Boo Boo shouted. "Since every one wants Jellystone back, can we now find my pet turtle at Tiger World Zoo?"

Kurt looked on the map on his phone and saw Jen's Ice Creams bar. He said, "We will, Boo Boo, but first, it's getting hot outside! Let's go get ice cream! That's a smart idea, Kurtie boy! I always wanted to try some ice cream! Let's go!" Yogi said, "Mean while, when Ranger Jones, Ranger Smith and Rachel arrived at Carowinds, they walked around Carowinds with a grand reopening of Hanna-Barbera Land. "Hanna-Barbera Land?" Rachel asked, wonderly. "Why did Carowinds reopen Hanna-Barbera Land?" Ranger Smith asked, sternly. The owner and CEO ran up and said, "There you are!" "You're asking why we reopen Hanna-Barbera Land's because Yogi, Boo Boo, and Cindy came back for after all of these years!" The CEO exclaimed. "Where's Yogi?" "Ranger

Smith asked, aggressively, "Oh, that Yogi! He went Frankie's Fun Park to warn all the people that Jellystone Park needs to come back while they're on their way to Tiger World Zoo." The Owner explained. Rachel puzzled to herself. She said to herself "Allie went with Kurt to rescue Yogi, Boo Boo, and Cindy to warn that Jellystone needs to come back until they reach Tiger World Zoo to rescue that fr..." But before she could say anything else, Ranger Jones asked, "Uh, some kind of lady, we've you going to say rescue the frog-mouth turtle?" "That's where they're going! Come on! Follow me!"

Rachel said as she lead the way. Meanwhile, Yogi, Boo Boo, Cindy, Kurt, and Allie took a break at Jeni's to get some ice cream. Yogi came outside with 3 sundaes. He said, "Boo Boo! Cindy! Look at we got! Here you two go!" "A sundae?" Boo Boo asked, thoughtfully. Allie sat next to Kurt eating ice creams. Allie asked Kurt? "Yes, Allie?" Kurt answered. Allie continued since we let all the people know why we need to save Jellystone, now can we find the frog-mouthed turtle in Tiger World Zoo?" "The bus stop is sure, Allie!" Kurt answered. "Downtown?" Yogi town town of Charlotte.

Smiled. "Well I know who will allow us to borrow a wheely-basket! Come on!" When Yogi, Boo Boo, Cindy, Kurt, and Allie arrived next Publix.

"Where's the shopping cart?" Kurt asked. "While we wait, let's all have a snack break!" Yogi said, as he got out his Kitkat bar. "Come on, Yogi! We got to keep moving! No time for snack break!" Boo Boo convinced Yogi.

Then, Yogi saw a man carrying groceries in his shopping cart. Yogi walked up and asked, "Excuse me, Mr. Keeper Shopper, any chance for my friends and I could borrow your wheely basket?" "And is that chocolate?" The man asked, as he stared at the Kitkat bar in Yogi's paw.

Yogi traded with man a shopping cart and Kitkat bar. Yogi, Boo Boo, and Cindy hopped on the shopping cart. Kurt and Allie pushed the shopping cart with Yogi, Boo Boo, and Cindy on it down the hill across the city. "Okay, Allie! Give a steady!" Yogi shouted. After they rode down hill across the city, they came to a stop right at the bus stop.

"I look boys! There's the bus!" Cindy shouted as the bus arrived on time. "Money, please?" The bus driver said, immediately. "Oh, I have money right here!" Allie said as handed her money to the bus driver. Yogi, Boo Boo, Cindy, Kurt, and Allie hopped on the bus and walked over to the seats. Yogi finally allowed himself with a smile, "Welcome aboard!" The bus driver shouted, "Next stop, Tiger World Zoo!" The bus drove them to Tiger World Zoo. When the bus arrived at the zoo, Yogi, Boo Boo, Cindy, Kurt, and Allie got off the bus. "Wow, we made it!" Yogi gasped. "Let's go get our turtle back!" When they got up to the ticket booth, they waited in line to get their tickets. It took 5 minutes, but Yogi interrupted a woman in front, "Excuse me, miss! How much longer? We need our pet turtle back!" "Aaahhh! A wild bear!" A woman screamed. The people in line screamed and got away. "Wait, we're not going to hurt you I'm a nice guy!" Yogi smiled. "Look Yogi! The line is clear now." Cindy said. When they walked up to the ticket booth, Kurt said, "Hello mam, 5 tickets to Tiger World Zoo please!" Kurt handed 5 tickets to the zoo keeper. She said, "Thank you, both! Have a nice day!" As soon as Boo Boo, Cindy, Kurt, and Allie walked in the zoo, Yogi viewed over with a parascope to see that the animal controllers put the frog-mouthed turtle in the zoo exhibit. Boo Boo looked in too. He said, "There he is! How are we going to catch the turtle?" "Don't be silly, Boo Boo! Since I'm smarter than the average bear, I have an idea!" Yogi said, as he saw a zipline stand, Yogi, Boo Boo, Cindy, Kurt, and Allie sneaked inside the bushes. Yogi checked with his parascope. He said, "Boo Boo, I think it's time to introduce that turtle inside that pic-a-nic basket!" Boo Boo said, "You know, Yogi, we could just hunt for food! All other animals do!" Yogi explained, "Boo Boo, a pic-a-nic basket has everything a bear needs! Just remember, it holds dreams." "What are we looking at?" Cindy asked. "I don't know!" Yogi joked. After they got out of their bushes, Yogi added, "Hook me in kids!" Allie and Kurt hooked Yogi on the zipline. Allie told Yogi, "Don't worry, Yogi, we'll meet you down on the other side!" "Are you sure this is going to work, Yogi?" Boo Boo asked. "As you know, Boo Boo, I'm smarter than the average bear!" Yogi shouted as he jumped off the zipline stand. When Yogi ziplined across the zoo, the animal controller opened the basket to Release the frog-mouthed turtle, and Yogi snatched the picnic basket with a frog-mouthed turtle in it saying, "Excuse me, sir! I'll take that!" "Hey!" The animal controller said angrily. Suddenly, Yogi wined over a hook and flew up in the air. "I gotcha Yogi!" Boo Boo cried and panicked. "No, I'll catch Yogi!" Ranger Smith said, sternly. "Mr. Ranger?" Boo Boo asked thoughtfully. Ranger Smith finally caught Yogi with his frog-mouthed turtle. "That was awesome Kurt gasped. "Mom, what are you, Ranger Smith, and Ranger Jones doing here?" Allie cried. "Please, don't be mad!" "Allie is right, Mr. Ranger, we're really really really sorry! We were just saving the frog-mouthed kind of turtle!" Yogi cried as he showed his turtle. "Guys we're not mad at you!" Ranger Smith said. "We just want to make sure you won't get into any trouble!" "Yeah we were looking everywhere for you and it sounds like you kids and bears did a great job letting everybody know and for saving this turtle!" Rachel exclaimed. "Really?" Boo Boo asked, thoughtfully. "Yes, Boo Boo, now we've got what we need to save this park!" said Ranger Smith. "Thanks mommy!" Allie said as she gave Rachel a hug. "You did it, Yogi! You are so good!" Ranger Smith smiled. Yogi gave Ranger Smith a squeeze.

hug. "Alright, that's enough, Yogi!" Ranger Smith groaned.
"Let's take this Frog-Mouthed Turtle back to Jellystone.
Right when Yogi, Boo Boo, Cindy, Kurt, Allie, Rachel, Ranger Jones, and Ranger Smith got into the Ranger Truck, the animal controller saw them driving back to Jellystone Park. He said, angrily, "Hey come back here! Oh, you idiots!" When Yogi, Boo Boo, Cindy, Kurt, Allie, Rachel, Ranger Jones, and Ranger Smith arrive back, they were too late. Jellystone Park was gone and Lincoln Log Land was about to reopen. "What happened to this place, Boo Boo?" Yogi gasped. "I don't know, but whatever they did, they just got started!" Boo Boo gasped too. Cindy saw Mayor Wright and Governor Allen was about to make an announcement in front of the ribbon.
She shouted, "Look, there's the mayor and governor! We got to stop them! Let's go!"
As soon as Yogi, Boo Boo, Cindy, Kurt, Allie, Rachel, Ranger Jones, and Ranger Smith got out of the Ranger Truck, Governor Allen stood next to Mayor Wright. Mayor Wright announced, "Hello, Ladies and gentlemen, welcome to the grand opening of Lincoln Log Land!" The audience and visitors applauded.
"I'm the mayor of this city and this governor is the governor of the state! Now, before we cut the ribbon, everyone is wondering why people vote for Mayor Wright to be governor..." Mayor Wright tried to continue, but then, Ranger Smith holding the frog-mouthed turtle interrupted, "Guess who we found? It all over Mr. Mayor and Mr. Governor. Close down Lincoln Log Land because this law says our park is protected from bears and the frog-mouthed turtle." "Do you think I care about what the law says? I only care about people seeing the frog-mouthed turtle and empty space you in heads!" Mayor Wright shouted. Yogi, Boo Boo, and Cindy felt surprised. "I bet everyone will wonder if it ever exist!" Added Mayor Wright. Then, the animal controller came back and said, "You found the turtle!" Governor Allen said, "Bring this turtle back to the zoo before somebody sees it!" The animal controllers tried to grab Ranger Smith. "Rachel!" Ranger Smith shouted as he passed the turtle to Rachel. The animal controllers tried to grab Rachel. "Yogi!" she shouted as she passed the turtle to Yogi. "Yogi here!" Boo Boo called out. "Pass it to me!" Cindy called out too. The animal controllers grabbed Yogi and he accidentally threw the frog-mouth turtle to Governor Allen. "Thank you!" Governor Allen said with his evil laugh. "Yogi!" Ranger Smith said, sternly. "I'm sorry, the animal controllers are against me!" Yogi joked. "Enough of that, capture those talking bears!" Mayor Wright said, angrily. Right when the animal controllers tried to capture Yogi, Boo Boo, and Cindy, a police officer came over and shouted, "Every body stop! Don't listen to Governor Allen and Mayor Wright! Ranger Smith is right! Since I'm an officer and I know what's against the law. That frog-mouthed is a non-extincted turtle that is protected at Jellystone Park and their bear's natural habitat. It's against the law to remove the turtle from its natural habitat, so I found their big mistake is you two." "I have no idea what you're talking about," Mayor Wright asked. Then, a woman shouted, "He's saying that let the frog-mouth turtle be free!" Another man shouted, "The animal controllers don't have to listen to you! Free the bears!" Then, the boy shouted, "We went around Charlotte and we want Jellystone back!" The animal controller said, "They're right! Bears are friendly and funny!" The animal controller grabbed the contract and ripped it up. Another animal controller released the frog-mouthed turtle, Boo Boo, and Cindy. The animal controllers changed

However, Governor Allen and Mayor Wright got mad. In fact, Governor Allen said, "Wait! Wait! Wait! I'm the governor of this state and he's the mayor of the city! We make these decisions!" The police officer arrested Governor Allen and Mayor Wright. The police officer said, "Well looks like you're out of town!" The people laughed. Then, Ranger Smith put his hand onto Yogi's shoulder. He said

"Congratulations, Yogi! You own Jellystone Park!"
"Me? But you're the ranger?" Yogi said thoughtfully
"I am still the ranger of Jellystone," Ranger Smith continued. Allie chimed in and exclaimed, "Since you took Kurt and I to the city of Charlotte to tell the people why we want Jellystone back, you are special to this park Yogi smiled as he hugged Kurt and Allie. "That's my kids!" It took a year to take down Lincoln Log Land and make room for new trees, but by then, Ranger Smith announce on the microphone with Ranger Jones and Rachel, "Good afternoon boys and girl and... welcome to the grand reopening of Yogi Bear's Jellystone Park Camp Resor Rachel cut the ribbon. Some peop went inside to look around. Some people went over to the picnic tables next to the grassy golf cart. Yogi shouted, "Hello Jellystone! Anyone wants to join for a picnic?" The visitors who sat on their picnic tables said, "We love Yogi!"
"Yogi, where are you going?" Ranger Smith asked sternly. "You know giving them a ride!" Yogi said.
"Buckle up kids!" Boo Boo called out. Yogi drove them around Jellystone Park. "YOGI!!!" Ranger Smith shouted as he chased after them
"I love this place ALOT!!" Rachel said as she followed them too
